

8:30
8:45	Registration
9:00
9:10	Welcome address (Pierre Poirier, Nicolas Payette)
9:30	Nicolas Claidière & Dan Sperber (Jean Nicod) Imitation explains the propagation, not the stability of animal culture	The evolution of cultures
9:45
10:00	Olivier Morin (Jean Nicod) On a relation between a culture's becoming coherent and its becoming scarce
10:15
10:30	Pause
10:45	Mathieu Charbonneau (Université de Montréal) The analogy of evolution by selection
11:00
11:15	Marco Campenni & Federico Cecconi (ISTC - CNR) The dilemma "Tactical Behavior vs Strategic Behavior": a computational study	Strategic interactions
11:30
11:45
12:00
12:15
12:30	Lunch
12:45
13:00
13:15	Olivier Mascaro (Jean Nicod) The evolutionary and social basis of vigilance towards deception
13:30
13:45	Christine Clavien (Université de Lausanne) Eager for fairness or for revenge? Altruism and emotion in experimental economics and neuroeconomics	Experimental economics
14:00
14:15	Peter Blake (Harvard University) Value and reputation in a dictator game for children
14:30
14:45	Pause
15:00
15:15
15:30	Joseph Henrich (UBC)
15:45
16:00
16:15
16:30
16:45	Cognitive science in Montreal
17:00
17:15
17:30	Posters / cocktail (until 19h00)
...

9:00
9:15	Frédéric Bouchard (Université de Montréal) What symbioses and ecosystems can teach us about fitness and the evolution of cognition
9:30
9:45
10:00
10:15	Pause
10:30	Hugo Viciano (Paris 1 - UIB), Pierrick Bourrat (Paris 7) & Claude Loverdo (Paris 6) The evolution of cultural cognition and the Baldwin effect: which conditions are essential for categorizing effects?	Cognitive evolution and natural selection
10:45
11:00	Sarah Overington (McGill) Natural selection and cognition: comparative and modelling approaches
11:15
11:30	Joe Hedger (Arizona State University) Is Brooks's model of intelligence scalable to the level of human beings?	Selves and agents
11:45
12:00
12:15
12:30
12:45	Lunch
13:00
13:15
13:30
13:45	Vanja Kljajevic (University of Memphis) Social presence and the sense of self in virtual reality
14:00
14:15	Orlin Vakarelov (University of Arizona) The cognitive agent: overcoming informational limits
14:30
14:45	Robert Stephens (McGill) How to stop thinking: a pragmatic response to the frame problem	The evolution of language
15:00
15:15	Pause
15:30	Kristin Andrews (York University) Nonverbal explanations across species
15:45
16:00	Delphine Blitman (Jean Nicod) The non evolution of the language core system: not so absurd! A tentative defense of Chomsky's views about the evolution of language
16:15
16:30	Marcus Perlman & Ashley A. Cain (UCSC) Vocal charades: an exploratory study of iconic vocal gesture
16:45
...
19:00
19:15	Dinner

9:00	Thora Herrmann (U. Montréal) & Emma Despland (Concordia) Interconnectivity between cultural and biological diversity	Issues in cultural evolution
9:15
9:30	Martin Siefkes (Technische Universität Berlin) Style: a new analytical view on an old problem
9:45
10:00	David M. Bell & Christopher See (Georgia State University) Rethinking religious identity: the evolutionary psychology of a cultural phenomenon
10:15
10:30	Pause
10:45	Guillaume Beaulac (UQAM) Memes to enhance evolved cognition and the reliability of knowledge
11:00
11:15	Lisa Damm (UCSD) Emotions as multimodal constructs: the merging of mind and culture
11:30
11:45	A word of thanks

Institut des sciences cognitives

